

MUCH / MANY

Exercises School

philipmartin.info

Fill in with much/many:

1. There aren't _____ apples left.
2. How _____ money do you need for the books?
3. There aren't _____ people at the party.
4. There are _____ nice people here.
5. We don't have _____ time. Please hurry up!
6. I can't see _____ children playing in the garden!
7. It happened to me so _____ times!
8. I'd like to have _____ opportunities for travelling.
9. There isn't _____ sugar left.
10. How _____ chairs can you see?
11. A: I've got a bad mark.
B: How _____ mistakes did you have?
12. _____ native English speakers give private lessons. If you have enough time and money, you can hire someone.
13. I haven't eaten so _____ apples recently!
14. How _____ dollars do you have with you?
15. Since Peter doesn't have _____ time, he can't come to see me.
16. How _____ tea would you like?
17. He can't get much _____ attention he used to have, that's why he is so nervous.
18. We had _____ difficult exercises to do for our homework.
19. _____ rainy days caused lots of floods in our country.
20. How _____ energy does the world need?
21. Here you can find _____ nice skirts and T-shirts.
22. You'll not have _____ freedom to choose what you like to eat if you stay there.
23. Do you have _____ work to do?
24. Lisa has _____ toys she doesn't want to play with.
25. As you're late there's not _____ cake left.
26. Simon didn't have _____ problems yesterday.
27. She used to get _____ presents.
28. They don't seem to have _____ problems.

www.londoncallingdesigns.com

Much - before uncountable nouns in questions and negative sentences.
Not usually used in positive sentences.

- How much time do we have?
- There isn't much sugar left.
- Not: ~~There is much sugar.~~
You'd say: There is a lot of sugar.

Drill: Exercise 2 (practising the use of much and many).

1. Make up as many sentences as possible with much and many. You have 5 minutes. How many sentences were you able to make?
2. For homework make 10 sentences with much and 10 with many then read them out loud on the next class.
3. Read some articles on the Internet and search for the examples of much and many in different contexts.

Many - used before countable nouns in plural. It is used in positive, negative sentences and questions.

- There are many children outside.
- There aren't many of them.